GREGORY

My real name is Sidney Kenneth Beckenstein. My jewish name is Rochmen Lev Ben Yokov Meyer Bechenstein, and my professional name is Gregory Gardner. Very East Side, and I do ot deny it, I'm 32.

The worst thing in school was every time the teacher called on me....I'd be hard. I'd be hard. Really, I'd have to lean up against the desk like this. And the teacher would say, "Stand up straight". "I can't. I have a pain in myside. Or walking down the hall you'd have to walk like this with all the books stacked up in front of you. And the bus was the worst. I'd just look at a bus andbingo!

And then there was this time I was making out in the back seat with Sally Ketchum. We were necking and I was feeling her boobs, and feeling her books, and after about an hour or so she said, "Oooooohhhh....don't you want to feel anything else?" And I suddenly thought to myself, "No, I don't" It was probably the first time I realized I was homosexual.
